MAJOR ACCESS ROUTES TO THE BIG SOUTH FORK NRRA

Travelers on I-75 west bound should take the Jamestown-Crossville Exit onto U.S. 127. Take U.S. 127 north thirty-six miles into Jamestown. Two miles north of Jamestown, take Highway 154 north to the intersection of Highway 297. Follow 297 east approximately 12 miles to the Big South Fork Visitor Center at Bandy Creek Campground.

Travelers on I-75 east bound should take the Monterey-Livingston Exit (300-A) or the Jamestown-Monterey Exit (301), onto State Highway 62. Take Highway 62 east for sixteen miles to U.S. 127 at Clarkrange, turn left and follow U.S. 127 north eighteen miles into Jamestown. Travelers may take 127 through Jamestown or use the new 127 by-pass. Two miles north of Jamestown take Highway 154 north to the intersection of Highway 297. Follow 297 east approximately 12 miles to the Big South Fork Visitor Center at Bandy Creek Campground.

Travelers on I-75 north bound should take the Oneida-Huntsville Exit (141) onto Highway 63. Follow Highway 63 west for 21 miles through Huntsville to U.S. 27. Turn right on U.S. 27 and drive north seven miles to Oneida. At the first traffic lot, turn left on Highway 297 west and follow the signs on 297 to reach the Bandy Creek Visitor Center (approximately 15 miles from Oneida). To reach the Kentucky Visitor Center at Stearns, Kentucky, continue north on U.S. 27 through Oneida.

Travelers headed south on I-75 have several options for reaching the Big South Fork. Highway 461 at Mt. Vernon (Exit 64) is signed as an exit for the Big South Fork. Travelers choosing this route should take 461 south for nineteen miles to Highway 80 and take Highway 80 west into Somerset, Kentucky to U.S. 27. Follow 27 south 47 miles into Oneida, Tennessee. In Oneida, take 297 west and follow signs to the Big South Fork Visitor Center (approximately 15 miles from Oneida).

Southbound I-75 travelers may also take U.S. 25W (Exit 25) at Corbin, Kentucky. Follow 25W for eight miles to Highway 90. Take Route 90 west for 20 miles through Cumberland Falls State Park to Parkers, Lake, Kentucky and U.S. 27. Take 27 south as described above.

Highway 92 at Williamsburg Kentucky (Exit 11) can also be used to reach the Big South Fork from I-75. Highway 92 provides a curvy but scenic 21-mile drive west from I-75 to U.S. 27 at Pine Knot, Kentucky. Follow U.S. 27 south as described above.
